

Help students master the English language.

The online master's in TESOL.

To serve the growing population of English language learners (ELLs) in U.S. schools today, the University of Kansas School of Education and Human Sciences offers both a teacher track and a non-teacher track in its online master's in teaching English to speakers of other languages \(TESOL\)*. Whether you are seeking licensure, a career shift, or just to better support students in your school or district, our online master's in TESOL will prepare you to help students from many culturally diverse backgrounds succeed in early childhood, PK-12 or adult education classrooms.

Program Benefits

- Learn from renowned faculty with extensively published research and diverse real-world experience
- The teacher track includes an opportunity to apply practical approaches grounded in pedagogical theory through interactions with children and youth in your own community
- Complete your coursework anytime, anywhere, through our innovative online format
- No GRE required for admission

Program Structure

- 10 courses
- 30 credit hours
- 8 weeks per course
- Complete in as few as 2 years
- Practicum required for teacher track

Admissions Requirements

- Completed online application form
- Professional resume or CV
- Completed bachelor's degree from accredited college or university
- Official transcripts from all colleges or universities attended
- Personal statement that indicates your specific interest in the program and how it relates to your career goals
- Three letters of recommendation from professional or academic references
- Application fee: $65 for U.S. residents, $85 for international applicants
- Proof of English proficiency (for non-native English-speaking applicants)

*This program is an online Master of Science in Education (M.S.E.) degree in curriculum and instruction with an emphasis in TESOL. The teacher track of the program satisfies the requirements for TESOL licensure endorsement in the state of Kansas as well as the requirements needed to complete a master's degree.